The time period for reply, if any, is set in the attached communication.

Office Action Summary	Application No. 10/560,720	Applicant(s) TKACHENKO ET AL.
	Examiner M. Lee	Art Unit 2622

-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 15 December 2005.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL.                      2b) ☒ This action is non-final.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 2, and 10-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gomikawa (JP02000050219A).

Regarding claim 1, Gomikawa discloses all the features of the instant invention as admitted by the applicant at the background of the invention. For instance, the new teletext data in Gomikawa replace the oldest stored teletext program data when the page memory is insufficient to store the new data. The oldest stored data could be received from the current channel or any other channel. The channel information associated with each of the teletext pages is embedded along with the same. Thus, Gomikawa clearly meets the substituting step as claimed.

Regarding claim 2, the memory table as shown in Figure 3 is clearly searchable by the user. For instance, each row of the table has channel information associated with a teletext page. By using the channel information, a proper channel teletext page can be located by the user via some external control means. Therefore, the receiving and using steps as claimed are clearly met by Gomikawa.

Regarding claims 10 and 11, in addition of above, see the teletext receiver as shown in Figure 1.

Regarding claim 12, Gomikawa shows a computer program in Figure 4.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

3. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claim 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Data structures not claimed as embodied in computer-readable media are descriptive material per se and are not statutory because they are not capable of causing functional change in the computer. See, e.g., Warmerdam, 33 F.3d at 1361, 31 USPQ2d at 1760 (claim to a data structure per se held nonstatutory). Such claimed data structures do not define any structural and functional interrelationships between the data structure and other claimed aspects of the invention which permit the data structure's functionality to be realized.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 3-9 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Tarrant (5,208,671) shows a teletext memory.

Raaijmakers (4,991,017) shows a memory table.
